The Holy Season of Lent

The Holy Season of Lent begins with an Ash Wednesday service at 6 p.m. on February 26.

If you look up the word "Lent" in a Bible concordance you will be sorely disappointed. The word isn't there. And yet the church has set aside this time of Lent for most of its history. We have fairly clear proof from early historical documents that within the first 200 years of the church, a period of repentance and preparation for the coming of Easter was practiced by early Christians. By the time of the Council of Nicaea the mention of a 40-day fast for preparation and repentance is mentioned in the documents of that ecumenical council. But, whether or not the word Lent is found in the Bible or not, the words repentance and preparation are. The Bible is beset with people that are either repenting or in need of repentance. Preparation is also a major theme of both Testaments and we know that Jesus spent time in prayer and study in preparation for his ministry among God's people.

Ash Wednesday is a beginning point. It begins the church's long retreat in preparation for the celebration of the Paschal Mystery: the celebration of the life, death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus, the Christ. The Lenten journey is a journey for the sake of life, not only our lives but the lives of all of God's creation.

It begins with repentance which is the admission that our sinfulness leads to brokenness and separation from God, and this separation from God and this living for our own selves without regard to God or to the other is what deadens and what kills. Repentance is truth-telling. Repentance is witness. Repentance denounces, and in this, somehow we find hope.

The hope comes in glimpses of the kingdom, in those moments when the cacophony of suffering is drowned out by the playful laugh of a child or the smile from an adversary or the restoration of a penitent sinner. Repentance, restoration, healing, and justice are our collective focus during this Holy Lent.

Like Jesus asked the Pharisees, Jesus asks us:

Are we doing this for show or do we really want to repent and return to the Lord?

Are we doing this for ourselves or are we doing this for all of God's creation?

Enjoy the next fourteen days of Epiphanytide. The season of Lent is just around the corner.

Peace,
Father Steve

Retreat for High School Youth

The Oklahoma Episcopal Diocese will hold the "Created in the Image" Retreat for high school students on March 27 as part of a series of four separate retreats, held once a year, at which difficult topics our youth experience at school and in society and how our faith frames these experiences will be discussed. The retreats are facilitated by youth ministers from around the Diocese under the direction of the Director of Youth/Young Adults. The cost is $125 each. Register at epiok.org or call the Diocese to learn more at 405-232-4820. Details of each year's retreat are on the website. Four-year participants will be recognized by the Diocese at their home congregations.
